The Business Prospects are Reviewed.

Natural Gas Dispenses With 189,800 Bushels of Coal and 5,000 Men at Pittsburg.

The Cincinnati Enquirer and Pittsburg Dispatch Sued for Libel by Butter Men.

BUSINESS.

How it Looks to R. G. Dunn & Co.

NEW YORK, July 8.—The agency of R. G. Dunn & Co. has just published a report of the failures in the United States and Canada for the first half of 1886. It shows that during the first six months of the present year there were 5,156 failures in the United States, or 848 less than the corresponding period last year. The decrease in the amount of the liabilities was still more marked. During the first six months of 1885, the liabilities amounted to $74,000,000; for the corresponding period of this year they were $50,000,000, a decrease of $24,000,000. These significant figures are followed by a comprehensive review of the business interests of the country and the outlook for the fall trade. The report says, speaking for the remaining portion of 1886:

"There seem to be fewer disturbing elements than ever before, confidence is almost universally restored, the promise of an abundant harvest is well assured, and the autumn season is now looked forward to as likely to yield very liberal returns in trade and banking cities."

BIG LIBEL SUIT.

The Enquirer Sued for a Big Round $100,000.

BOSTON, July 8.—A Herald special from Washington says the oleomargarine war has resulted in libel suits against the Cincinnati Enquirer and Pittsburg Dispatch. Papers were filed to-day. The complainant is Joseph H. Reall, president of the Agricultural Dairymen's association. The damages are named at $100,000 each. The bill consists of articles declaring the association is a myth used to gull farmers and dairymen of the contributions ostensibly being used to fight bogus butter bills in congress. General Butler has been retained by the prosecution. It is said the reporters will be individually and criminally prosecuted, and that the warrants are out.

Shot in a Row—Natural Gas.

PITTSBURG, July 8.—The third tragedy within two weeks occurred in the Parker house, in Lathrobe, Pa., last night. During a quarrel, a well known character named Palmer, was shot and instantly killed by some person in the crowd. No arrests.

The use of natural gas in manufactories of this city has done away with the consumption of 189,800 bushels of coal a day. Altogether the use of natural gas has thrown about 5,000 men out of work in this region.

A RASH YOUTH

Shoots His Sweetheart and Himself.

NEW RICHMOND, Minn., July 8.—Last evening Henry Young, aged twenty-four, killed Mary Discher, aged eighteen, then himself. She had refused his offer of marriage. The girl's mother and sister were eye witnesses to the tragedy.

A $2,000,000 Suit.

NEW YORK, July 8.—In the $2,000,000 suit of Receiver Farnsworth, of the Bankers and Merchant's Telegraph company, against the Western Union Telegraph company for the destruction of the plaintiff's wires, Judge Lawrence to-day in the supreme court denied a motion of the counsel for the defense to dismiss the case.

BY ACCLAMATION.

Hon. John E. Lamb Receives an Ovation and a Unanimous Nomination.

ROCKVILLE, Ind., July 8.—One of the largest and best conventions ever held in this part of the state convened here to-day to nominate a candidate for congress from the Eighth district. Aside from the delegates proper there were present a great many democrats from this vicinity and throughout the state. Among the latter were Mr. Thomas Byrne, of Vanderburg, candidate for treasurer of state; Mr. Charles A. Munson, of Allen; Dr. A. B. Pitzer, of Tipton, and Mr. Jared Reiter, of Knox, candidates for auditor of state, and Hon. Thomas Davidson, of Montgomery, candidate for supreme judge.

Gen. M. D. Manson was elected to preside and after a call of counties Judge Cyrus T. McNutt, of Vigo, presented the name of Hon. John E. Lamb in a very graceful and eloquent address. The nomination was handsomely seconded and on motion of Judge Davidson the convention unanimously and by acclamation named Mr. Lamb as their candidate. Judge Jump notified Mr. Lamb of his nomination and the gentleman responded. His reception was an ovation of which he might well be proud. In an eloquent and well timed speech, accepting the nomination, he warmly indorsed President Cleveland's administration; declared himself in favor of a revision of the tariff; opposed to a financial legislation that will make money scarcer; in favor of protecting the laboring man against the competition of European and Chinese cheap labor; in favor of reserving public lands for actual settlers, and in favor of a more liberal policy in pensioning the nation's defenders.

REV. ROCKEY

A Marred Columbia City Minister Loves Rashly.

WABASH, Ind., July 8.—A church trial at Roann, this county, has just disposed of the case of Rev. Mr. Rockey, a young Lutheran minister of Columbia City, who, despite the fact that he was married, looked with languishing eye upon a Miss Jack, a pretty maiden who attended his services. Rockey's alleged offense consists in inviting Miss Jack to take strolls with him, protracting them till twilight, and endeavoring to persuade her to walk beyond the city limits; to endeavor to induce her to enter an empty church at dark to play on the organ, and when "shaken" by the lady to call on her at 10 o'clock at night, awaken her family and make himself ridiculous. It was not known until a short time ago that he was a benedict, and since then Miss Jack's indignation has waxed violent, and Rockey was dragged down from Columbia City and regularly investigated. He was found guilty of imprudence, and after being reprimanded was allowed to return to his charge.

Parnell Fund.

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, July 8.—The following was sent from here this morning to Rev. Chas. O'Reilly at Detroit, by T. M. Reade, secretary, and James Johnson jr., treasurer of the citizens committee:

"The citizens' committee composed of merchants, manufacturers, and mechanics of Springfield, of every nationality, send Parnell five hundred dollars as a part of their contribution to the parliamentary fund."

A Settlement Improbable.

LONDON, July 8.—The Standard says the speedy settlement of the Afghan frontier question seems hopeless. The Russians are claiming Khamiab, which is well known to have been an Afghan posession for thirty-five years.

PLANTATION WAR.

The Negroes Armed and Ready For Revenge.

ST. LOUIS, July 8.—A special from Little Rock, Ark., says: "Intelligence has arrived from the neighborhood of the late plantation trouble that the striking negroes, reinforced by many sympathizers from the surrounding farms and plantations numbering fully one thousand, have made complete preparations for a general uprising some time to-day or to-morrow; that fully armed they will attempt to redress their wrongs, directing their attention to Sheriff Worthen, who recently subdued the strikers. They will next advance upon the farms of Morris and Fox with the intention of burning their crops, barnes and houses. Others who have incurred their enmity will be visited and treated in a like manner. The negroes have been openly buying arms and ammunition within the past few days and state if they are opposed in their campaign of revenge they will be freely used. Sheriff Worthen called a public meeting last night and stated these facts, at the same time asking those who were willing to join the posse to hand him their names. About one hundred men responded to the call and were sworn in. The governor has been called upon to order out the militia, but he refused to do so until some actual trouble shall have occurred. Some of the farmers in the vicinity of the Tate plantation have prepared to arm the rest of the negroes, while others have removed their families and valuables to places of safety."

MUNCIE SCORCHED.

Two Squares of Buildings Destroyed—Loss Over $100,000.

MUNCIE, Ind., July 8.—The greatest conflagration that ever afflicted Muncie occurred yesterday evening. About 7:30 o'clock fire broke out in J. M. Thomas' livery stable, caused by spontaneous combustion, and in a few moments destroyed the building together with three head of horses and other valuables. The fire spread from building to building until two squares were a mass of flames. The popular National Hotel together with other buildings of much note fell, before the flames. The city is in a turmoil of excitement.

The Union City fire department was telegraphed for and responded within thirty-five minutes with 200 men. Mayor Ellis acted with his usual calm and wise forethought without an error on his part, and crowned the city with honors for his cool deliberation in this hour of trial. The losses will reach $100,000. Wm. Teaverbaugh, fireman, was seriously if not fatally injured during the fire.

The losses will run about as follows: J. M. Thomas, livery stable, $5,000; no insurance; E. E. Georgia, proprietor of National hotel, $20,000, no insurance; Richard Cunnington, bakery, $1,000; M. G. Mock, broker, $1,000, no insurance; C. E. Anthony, $6,000; two tenement houses, partially covered by insurance. Dr. Snell, residence and office, no insurance.

ANN ARBOR, July 8.—At a meeting of the executive and law committees of the university last night, Prof. Charles A. Kent presented his resignation as a lecturer in the law department. Prof. Kent's letter states that his action is based on what he considers an unfair adjustment of salaries. The law professors were cut from $2,200 per year to $2,000. The medical faculty salaries were left at $2,200. Prof. Kent urges that this was a discrimination against the law department. He will doubtless be succeeded by W. P. Wells, of Detroit.

CONGRESSMAN COLE.

The House Adjourns Because of His Death.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Representive William H. Cole, of the Third Maryland district, died this morning at his residence here, in his forty-ninth year, from Bright's disease.

A MARK OF RESPECT.

In the house, Mr. Compton, of Maryland, submitted a series of resolutions expressing the regret with which the house has heard of the death of the Hon. Wm. H. Cole, late representative of the state of Maryland, and providing for the appointment of a committee of seven representatives and three senators to take order for superintending the funeral ceremonies.

The house then, at 11:10, as a mark of respect to the memory of the deceased, adjourned.

Chairman Matson, of the invalid pension committee is determined to insist upon the reference of all vetoed pension bills to that committee and when the house meets to-morrow he will again make a motion to refer each case. The democratic leaders are resolved to stay here all summer, if necessary, as one of them put it, before abandoning their position in the matter.

Republicans who have been most active in their efforts to secure immediate action on the vetoed bills, have proposed a compromise, which will probably be accepted. Under its terms two hours will be allowed for debate upon such of the bills as may be selected and at the expiration of that time an aye and no vote shall be taken, the result of which is to be regarded as final as to all vetoes.

Senator Sewell to-day introduced a bill directing the secretary of war to have published additional volumes of "The War of the Rebellion," sufficient to supply all posts of the Grand Army of the Republic not now receiving them and to to distribute as they are published from time to time one set to each post under the same restrictions and regulations as now govern the distribution work.

The cabinet considered delayed nominations in the senate and the action of the house on pension bills.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Congress, 12th District,
HON. ROBERT LOWRY, of Allen.

THE British know a good thing when they see it, and recent advices from India state that the war in Burmah has turned into the hands of the conquerors an amount of "loot" which is quite fabulous in its valuation. A part of this was at once disposed of at auction in Mandalay. A large quantity is being held to be sold in Calcutta in autumn, and the most valuable portion, consisting mainly of jewelry, will be taken to England and auctioned off there. Meanwhile the whole annexation scheme has given great offense in India. A writer in the Nineteenth Century reminds English statesmen that this was precisely the case after the annexation of Oude in 1856, when the terrible Indian outbreak occurred known as the Sepoy rebellion. This writer believes that the annexation of Burmah is likely to result in a similar disturbance, in which case the British will have perhaps paid dear for the bric-a-brac, jewels, and fabrics over whose acquisition they are at present gloating.

Now some idler, having, probably, no character of his own to look after, has devised what he considers a new method of deciphering the character of others. His theory is that temperament and disposition can be told by the boot. Heavy-nailed boots, as a rule, according to his theory, show a want of scientific knowledge, and absence of a knowledge of art; boots without soles bespeak poets, dreamers, inventors, and the modern Radical; top-boots are typical of stubbornness and habits of thought; broad-toed boots, philosophers and worshipers of ease and comfort; slippers, a sluggish disposition; and no boots at all, rampant vagabondism. This is all very pretty, but even the inventor's naive remark that "of course the laws here laid down, will sometimes lead to error," hardly covers the large allowance that must be made for the influence of the purse and the bootmaker in the matter. However, the theory is as good as many another which has as yet really made no great stir in the world.

THE recent visit of Judge Holman to his Indiana constituents for the purpose of "fixing his fences," writes a Washington correspondent, recalls the origin of the now famous phrase. In the spring of 1880, two months before the meeting of the Chicago Convention, John Sherman, then Secretary of the Treasury, announced at a Cabinet meeting one afternoon that he was going to Ohio. "Has your visit any political significance?" asked a friend at the Cabinet table. "None whatever," was the reply. "In the spring of the year the fences about my farm at Mansfield require a great deal of fixing. I must go out and see that the work is properly done." This sage answer raised a hearty laugh. Nobody was deceived by it because Mr. Sherman was then a recognized candidate for Presidential nomination. The incident was soon the talk of the town. Horace Porter put the saying into its present shape, however, under the following circumstances: Traveling en route to the Chicago Convention in Mr. Pullman's company, near Mansfield the car in which these gentlemen, with a few friends, were jolted terribly. "What is the matter?" shouted Governor McCormack. "One of John Sherman's fence rails has got upon the track," promptly explained Horace Porter. It will be seen that this form of describing political wire-pulling is quite new.

That Terrible Drain

Which scofula has upon the system must be arrested, and the blood must be purified, or serious consequences will ensue. For purifying and vitalizing effects, Hood's Sarsaparilla has been found superior to any other preparation. It expels every trace of impurity from the blood, and bestows new life and vigor upon every function of the body, enabling it to entirely overcome disease.

A PRETTY story, if one could believe it, is told by the Paris correspondent of a Vienna paper. A matinee musicale was given by the Duchess Lamotte, and among the guests was the charming bride-elect of President Cleveland, then in Paris completing her trousseau. The young lady was the object of many marks of distinction, the high aristocracy surrounded her, and there was much talk of her position. One lady, the daughter-in-law of the Duchesse de Persigny, condoled with Miss Folsom because she would have no title as the wife of a republican President. "All would be well, only you would have no title," said she; "you will only be called Mrs. Cleveland." "But that name is only for strangers," was the answer of the fair American; "the President has for intimacy conferred upon me a very particular title." Everybody looked up curiously, and, blushing deeply, Miss Folsom added: "He calls me—his darling. Can a wife have a better title?" The hostess embraced her amiable guest, remarking: "You are right, and you appear to me as if you would keep the title to the end of your life."

THIS story of an infidel and his lightning-rod comes from the New Iberia (La.) Dispatch: At the Baptist Church in this town on Sunday of last week the minister was preaching a sermon on infidelity. In the congregation there was a prominent infidel named Lewis. Pointing his finger at the latter, who had smiled at a passage in the discourse, the pastor denounced him as an infidel and called on God to strike him with lightning. The next day New Iberia was the center of a terrific electric storm. The air was full of darting tongues of flame, and the crashes of thunder followed so close upon the flashes that the women and children were terror-struck and the men began to quake. While the entire population was in this nervous condition those who lived on the main street of the town witnessed a spectacle that almost congealed the blood in their veins. Walking directly up the middle of the street was the infidel, with lightning-rods protruding from every part of his body. So thickly were they scattered over him that he looked like a movable chevaux-de-frise. One rod extended sixteen feet above his head and ran half-way down his spinal column; two others of half this length were attached to each shoulder, while smaller sections stuck out in every direction. Proceeding leisurely down the street, Mr. Lewis called at the pastor's house. At the sight of this human porcupine the pastor fled in terror. All this region is greatly excited over the event.

Hay Fever Sufferers.

The number of people annually afflicted with this most annoying malady seems to be greatly on the increase. * * The editor of this journal is an annual victim, and, with a view to discover a specific cure, has tried numerous remedies. Of these Ely's Cream Balm is by all odds the quickest and most satisfactory, two applications greatly allaying the usual symptoms in the nose and eyes. We would recommend its use by all subject to hay fever, and we gladly bear unsolicited testimony to its efficacy in our own case. * * * Media, Pa., Record.

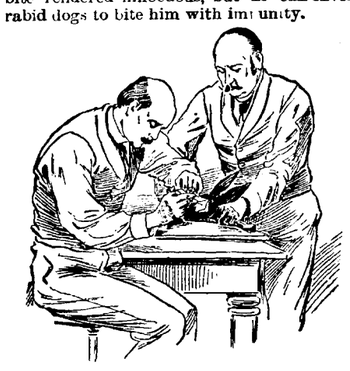
PASTEUR IN AMERICA.

Dr. Mott, of New York, an American Disciple of the Great Savant.

The pilgrimage of the five little Newark boys to Pasteur's establishment to be treated for rabies which they were supposed to have received from a mad dog bite is still fresh in the reader's mind. Their case attracted universal attention, but to no individual did it have that special interest which it received from Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York. He is a namesake and grandson of the celebrated Dr. Mott who, prior to his death in 1865, was one of the few practitioners with a national reputation. The present Dr. Mott is a graduate of Columbia college and Bellevue Medical college. He watched Professor Pasteur's researches and the result of his experiments from their inception, and being satisfied that they were fruitful of good to humanity he resolved on founding a Pasteur cure in the new world, so that patients would be saved the tedious and expensive trip to Paris. With this end in view he went to Paris last spring, and remained under Professor Pasteur's instruction for some time. He became a firm believer in the correctness of the great savant's theories, and has applied himself, with the aid of his father and his assistant, Dr. Baldwin, to their development on this side of the Atlantic.

One of the principles of the Pasteur theory is the well-known one that the human system can, by taking gradually increased doses of any poison, become so habituated or hardened to it as to be unaffected by it. This is exemplified in the tobacco and morphine habits, or in the case of what is commonly known as "poison ivy," which is highly poisonous to some people through the mere touch, while if they but chew the leaves of it it renders them proof against its poison.

To carry out this principle of the Pasteur method the patient who has received the rabid virus from a mad dog's bite, and which, if it is allowed to run its course, is liable to bring its victim to death through the terrible hydrophobia, is inoculated with virus of gradually increasing strength until he becomes so habituated to taking this kind of poison into his system that not only is the original virus received from the dog's bite rendered innocuous, but he can invite rabid dogs to bite him with impunity.



DR. MOTT DRILLING A RABBIT'S CRANIUM.

How to dilute the virus is one of Professor Pasteur's discoveries, and it is at this work Dr. Mott has been engaged for months past. He brought with him from Paris a rabbit that had some poison flowing through his body. On his arrival in this country this rabbit died from hydrophobia, as was expected. Then some of the virus from his body was introduced into the brain of a live and healthy rabbit through a small hole drilled in his cranium. Then on the death of this last rabbit the operation was repeated to another, and so on, the virus becoming, by transmission from one rabbit to another, weaker and weaker, and the length of time required for the virus to show its effects on each rabbit becoming more and more extended in the same ratio. Virus from each rabbit is carefully labeled and preserved in sterilized jars for future use as medicine.

THE FIRST INOCULATION IN AMERICA.

This scene may become a historic one. It was the occasion of the first treatment of a patient for rabies in America by the Pasteur method. The boy was first inoculated with virus after its transmission through fifteen rabbits. The operation is a simple and painless one, a mere abrasion of the skin of the left breast and a touch of the virus, as in vaccination. This operation will be repeated once each day for ten days, the patient receiving on the last day virus ten degrees stronger than that at first used, by which time the boy's system will have addicted, as it were, to the rabies habit, and the original rabies he received from the dog will be rendered harmless.

The very first operation Dr. Mott performed on himself, in the presence of a number of physicians, to prove that the treatment was harmless in the case of a healthy subject.

Influence of Woman at the Bar.

A woman has been admitted to the bar of the state, and other women who may wish hereafter to follow in her footsteps will find the way open to them. Inasmuch as we know that there is no class of citizens more susceptible to feminine influence than jurymen, the importance of this legal admission assumes a New 13 size.—Life.

"For economy and comfort, every string, we use Hood's Sarsaparilla," writes a Buffalo, N. Y., lady. 100 doses $1.

Edward P. Thayer, a grocer of Greenfield yesterday. His liabilities are nearly $8,000: assets, $4,000.

They are Not Sorry.

There is one thing nobody ever regrets—that is, the day they first adopted Parker's Tonic as their regular family medicine. Its range is so wide, and its good effects so sure, that nothing else, except good nursing, are needed in a great majority of cases. Buy it, try it, and afterwards it will not require any praise from us.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub wakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

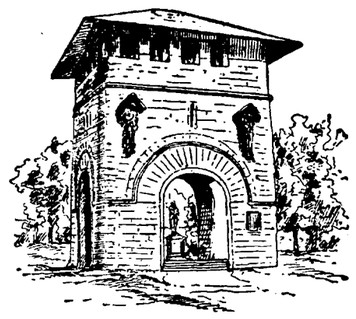
TO HONOR WASHINGTON.

A Monument to Commemorate the End of the Revolution.

Congress, aided by the state of New York, is about to erect at Newburg on the Hudson, a memorial to commemorate the closing scenes in the revolutionary war. The site chosen is one of the most picturesque on the continent. It is a bluff overlooking the river, and from it can be seen West Point and the towering peaks from whose altitudes the signal fires told the story of the birth of the revolution. It is also the site of Washington's headquarters, while the whole region around it abounds in historic interest.



THE WASHINGTON MEMORIAL.

The engraving from the drawing of the architect, Mr. John H. Duncan, of New York, will give a very good idea of this unique structure. It will measure thirty-seven by thirty-two feet, with a total height of fifty-three feet to the ridge of the roof. The material used in construction will be granite gneiss.

In the center of the structure will stand a life-size bronze statue of Washington by O'Donovan upon a pedestal of polished red granite.

The top of the tower will furnish a lookout or belvedere, approach to which will be had by means of two winding staircases in the corners of the tower. Two hundred or 300 persons at a time will find accomodations here, and the view which the tower will command will be attractive to tourists from all time to come. The roof will be of iron and dark red tile, supported by thirteen massive columns, typical of the thirteen original states, and upon these columns it is intended in time that the bronze coat of arms of the states shall be placed. Upon the east and west walls of the tower niches will be provided for four figures in bronze, to be put in place later. The present idea is that statues of Washington's four favorite generals may occupy these places, or allegorical figures may be substituted. On the western wall and at the right of the archway, as seen in the sketch above, a bronze tablet will be set in, to bear such commemorative inscription as shall be agreed upon as appropriate. The interior walls it is designed to adorn with such proper medallions and bas reliefs as may be supplied from time to time. The memorial will be constructed under the supervision of the secretary of war.

Then Charley, Clair, and Harry Gay,
To honor Independence Day
In a big explosion were not slow
To let their booms and crackers go,
Till burned and bruised at every point,
And sprained at wrist and ankle-joint—
Quickly POND'S EXTRACT came in turn
To take the smart from sprain and burn.

The Huntington county normal institute will open at Huntington July 19.

An Important Arrest.

The arrest of a suspicious character upon his general appearance, movements or companionship, without waiting until he has robbed a traveler, fired a house or murdered a fellow-man, is an important function of a shrewd detective. Even more important is the arrest of a disease which, if not checked, will blight and destroy a human life. The frequent cough, loss of appetite, general languor or debility, pallid skin and bodily aches and pains, announce the approach of pulmonary consumption, which is promptly arrested and permanently cured by Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." Sold by druggists.

The drouth is ruining Dakota wheat, which fact may serve to boom the Indiana cereal.

In the Hop Plaster are united fresh hops, gums and balsams, and its power is wonderful in curing back ache, sprains, bruises, neuralgia, pain in the side or soreness anywhere. Thousands testify to this.

The annual reunion of the Forty-seventh Indiana regiment will be held at Bluffton, September 30.

Is Your Liver out of Order.

Then is your whole system deranged—the blood is impure, the breath offensive, you have a headache, feel languid, dispirited and nervous, have no appetite, your sleep is troubled and unrefreshing. To prevent a more serious condition, take at once a half tablespoonful of Simmons Liver Regulator, three times a day—it will soon restore the healthy action of the liver, bowels and kidneys.

"I reccommend Simmons Liver Regulator to all my friends, as I have personally known it to cure all liver disorders and sick headache. A. MERRITT, Beverly, N. J."

BIG SUITS.

Mrs. Sarah Smead Sues for $2,000 and Griebel & Co., for $1,500.

Mrs. Sarah Smead sues the divorced Mrs. Dr. Gard for $2,000 for defamation of character. In her cross complaint, Mrs. Gard accused the doctor of criminal intimacy with Mrs. Smead, but in her testimony Mrs. Gard does not sustain her accusation. Hence Mrs. Smeads grievance and suit for damages.

A NOTED JESUIT.

A Chat With an Indian Missionary on the Red Man.

Rev. Urbaldi Grassi, a distinguished Jesuit missionary, was the guest of Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger this week.

Father Grassi has spent twenty-six years as a missionary among the Indians and is known to the tribes as "Kizeque." in the Okimagan tongue Kizeque means left-handed, and as Father Grassi is left-handed, he is known by this Indian word. Father Grassi is a native of Piedmont, Italy. He went to California in 1860 and has since that time lived and worked with the Indians. He has views on the Indian question and thus pays his respects to the Indian agents:

"If the Indians were treated with fairness and honesty, there would be little trouble with them and they would yield to christianity and become civilized. The Indian agent is usually a dishonest person, or at least inefficient and unsatisfactory. Occasionally there is a good one, but for the most part they are bad. They are Indian agents not for the benefit they may do the Indians, but for the money there is in the office. The Indians can be civilized, and civilization will settle the Indian question. Of course, christianity, preceding civilization will make the work easier. You can depend upon the Indians when they have good treatment. They are only ugly when pushed and goaded by wrong. The Indian agent's method for making good Indians is very different from ours."

Father Grassi says he has found the Indians ready to accept religious instruction. They think better of the Chinese than of the Americans, because the Mongolians treat them fairly and honestly. The Jesuits have missions in Idaho, Washington, Montana and Wyoming territories and in Alaska.

A WINNING STRIKE.

The Bricklayers Demand $3.25 a Day and Most of Them Get It.

The bricklayers have been rushed with business this season and Tuesday resolved to harvest hay in the sunshine. They all quit work yesterday and startled contractors and builders by making a demand for $3.25, instead of $3 00 a day, the sum paid them heretofore this year. This action was concerted and well planned as they caught their bosses with big time contracts on hand.

Mr. Henry Paul tells us that the demands were granted in most every instance, save by William Moellering, who refused the 25-cent raise. His men are firm and are indifferent about his refusal, as their labor is in great demand elsewhere on the various churches, business blocks and new residences now going up. At the expiration of the pending contracts the bosses will refuse the advance and Fort Wayne will be in the throes of another strike, now so nicely averted by necessity. The strike has been of the determined, quiet sort, and fully 300 men were engaged in it. THE SENTINEL will watch this contest and keep its readers posted, as a strike in view of the contemplated addition to the government building, and the erection of the Catholic Orphan asylum, the St. Paul's and St. Mary's churches, the White and Fox business blocks and a hundred other residences and stores, would be a great calamity.

LITTLE RIVER DITCH.

Joe Derheimer Will Put Two $10,000 Dredges on it at Once.

The letting of bids on the Little River ditch was the topic of conversation yesterday and capitalists stood about discussing the project. Joe Derheimer, who was awarded the contract at $137,017.74, at once filed his bond in the sum of $171,000 with Henry Paul, Charley Bash and Fred C. Boltz as his surities. The bond is entirely adequate and the signatures to it are good for considerable more than the amount named.

Dennis O'Day was backed in his proposal by Hon. Charles McCulloch and Christ Boseker. Mr. McCulloch talked of submitting the award to Judge Haynes. The bid of Joe Derheimer will, however, stand a test. Mr. Derheimer bid on every section of the ditch and its branches and also bid on the work as a whole, without any equivocation or proviso and his figures are pretty close. Experienced contractors say he will have to have good luck to make much money on the job.

Mr. Derheimer is going right ahead with his plans and has contracted to purchase on a lease scheme two huge steam dredges, costing $10,000 each. He expects his machinery here in ten days and by October his dredge on Eel river will have finished its work and then will be transferred to Little River. A number of small dredges will be leased and put at work on the branches of Little River.

The people of Fort Wayne and Allen county can congratulate themselves that the vast sum of money expended on this work is to remain in our midst. It will go right into circulation for labor and material.

PROF. OTTO SCHMIDT.

He Will Live at Richmond, Ind.

This from the Richmond Palladium will be a surprise to THE SENTINEL readers: "Prof. Otto A. Schmidt, who has recently been residing in Fort Wayne, has returned to Richmond and will remain here. He will be the director of Conner's orchestra, and as soon as the organ is placed in position at the new Presbyterian church he will preside over it. He will also resume teaching music and his old pupils are coming back to him.

Prof. Schmidt was musical director at the M. E. college and was regarded with much favor in Fort Wayne, where his ability was appreciated. It is difficult to supply his place and there will be a void in musical circles. It is not known how the college authorities will view his action.

Judge Ludlum, the Washington correspondent, pays this compliment to Judge Lowry in the Fort Wayne News: "Hon. Robert Lowry may be found at any time during the session of the house or meeting of the committee of which he is chairman or a member, at his post of duty. The judge—not referring to his politics—is still regarded as one of the most industrious and intelligent workers of the house of representatives, and his reports as chairman of his committees are always concise, comprehensive and exhaustive, and are never the subject of adverse criticism. He retains the esteem of his friends and the confidence of his colleagues."

H. H. Bossler Recovers $500 from Edward Sidel for a Proffered Sale.

The jury in the case of H. H. Bossler vs. Edward Sidel, came in this morning with a verdict giving Mr. Bossler $500, the full amount of his claim against the defendant. This suit was a novel one. Mr. Sidel objected to Mr. Bossler's appraisment of his Calhoun street block and to emphasize his protest against a $60,000 valuation of his fine block, he offered Mr. Bossler to sell it for $30,000 and agreed to pay $500 commission.

Mr. Bossler at once got Messrs. T. B. Hedekin and Barney O'Connor to plank down the cash and Sidel said he was just fooling. Mr. Bossler sued for $500 commission and he got it this morning, in the face of the fact that Mr. Sidel testified he carelessly passed the remark after looking into a few glasses of wine. Messrs. Henry Colerick and W. S. Oppenheim were attorneys for Mr. Bossler.

How Pittsburg Engineers Earn Their Promotions.

The Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago company is aiming at the improvement of the standard of its employes, the result which will be seen by a more intelligent set of workmen. Now, in the matter of employing firemen, the company has adopted a rule which is an innovation. According to the new regulations the company will employ locomotive firemen only on certain conditions. The applicant must pass an examination and show that he has a common school education, and can read and write. If he passes satisfactorily he is employed as an engine-wiper, at which he must work for an indefinite length of time to make himself familiar with the care of the different parts of the engine. From time to time he is examined by the master of motive power to see if he is learning anything about the machine, and may be sent out to fire for a trip or so to test his efficiency. After several of these experiences have proved satisfactory he may be given a freight run, after which his promotion will depend altogether on himself. The company has been so deluged with applications for positions that the enforcement of this rule may act to remove the pressure, and will insure a more intelligent lot of firemen from which to make engineers.

BLOW YOUR NOSE.

Disgusting Habit.

(From the Chicago Herald.)

Perhaps the most disgusting and filthy habit to which Americans are addicted, is the dirty indifference to the use of the handkerchief, and the substitution of the mouth for the offices of the nose. There is no sight so nauseating, revolting and sickening; nothing so suggestive of putrescence as this public relief of the nose and mouth. It is seen on the street, even in the church and theatre, and most offensively in a crowded car and in the presence of ladies, where there is no escape from its unsightliness, except to leave the car, or kill the perpetrator of such nastiness. Any one who can persist in the habit, after seeing another in the performance of an act so disgusting, must have either an iron-clad stomach or no stomach at all, or is too mean to buy a handkerchief, or too ignorant to know its use. The physiological place of the nose is highly important. Its relation to and sympathy with some of the most dangerous maladies which afflict mankind, are clearly understood. In catarrh, asthma, bronchitis, all diseases of the bronchi and lungs and disordered stomachs, it is sympathetically and deeply affected. By the disuse of the handkerchief, the mucous accumulations from the diseased organs drip into the lungs and stomach; hence the use of the handkerchief is not only a duty we owe to decency but to health. The nose being always sensitive to these irritations and inflammations of the throat and bronchial tubes, needs attention and nature intended it as a discharge pipe. There is no doubt that by this abuse of the functions, and by this accumulation of these nauseous secretions, incipient consumption is hastened and the throat and bronchia maladies greatly aggravated. The proprietors of Duffy's pure malt whiskey, an article which has a reputation all over the country as being the most effective element in the cure of consumption and kindred troubles, say that of the thousand persons with whom their Medical Department is in constant correspondence on this one subject alone, fully one-half say their troubles are directly traceable to neglect of the proper functions of the nose. We have refrained for a long time making allusion to a thing so distateful, but it seems to be a growing vice and must be suppressed, if it takes a law to do it. Nuisances can be abated by law, and who knows how much contagion may lurk in these filthy emissions.

Natural Gas Dispenses With 189,800 Bushels of Coal and 5,000 Men at Pittsburg.

The Cincinnati Enquirer and Pittsburg Dispatch Sued for Libel by Butter Men.

BUSINESS.

How It Looks to R. G. Dunn & Co.

NEW YORK, July 8.—The agency of R. G. Dunn & Co. has just published a report of the failures in the United States and Canada for the first half of 1886. It shows that during the first six months of the present year there were 5,156 failures in the United States, or 848 less than the corresponding period last year. The decrease in the amount of the liabilities was still more marked. During the first six months of 1885, the liabilities amounted to $74,000,000; for the corresponding period of this year they were $50,000,000, a decrease of $24,000,000. These significant figures are followed by a comprehensive review of the business interests of the country and the outlook for the fall trade. The report says, speaking for the remaining portion of 1886:

"There seem to be fewer disturbing elements than ever before, confidence is almost universally restored, the promise of an abundant harvest is well assured, and the autumn season is now looked forward to as likely to yield very liberal returns in trade and banking cities."

BIG LIBEL SUIT.

The Enquirer Sued for a Big Round $100,000.

BOSTON, July 8.—A Herald special from Washington says the oleomargarine war has resulted in libel suits against the Cincinnati Enquirer and Pittsburg Dispatch. Papers were filed to-day. The complainant is Joseph H. Reall, president of the Agricultural Dairymen's association. The damages are named at $100,000 each. The bill consists of articles declaring the association is a myth used to gull farmers and dairymen of the contributions ostensibly being used to fight bogus butter bills in congress. General Butler has been retained by the prosecution. It is said the reporters will be individually and criminally prosecuted, and that the warrants are out.

Shot in a Row—Natural Gas.

PITTSBURG, July 8.—The third tragedy within two weeks occurred in the Parker house, in Lathrobe, Pa., last night. During a quarrel, a well known character named Palmer, was shot and instantly killed by some person in the crowd. No arrests.

The use of natural gas in manufactories of this city has done away with the consumption of 189,800 bushels of coal a day. Altogether the use of natural gas has thrown about 5,000 men out of work in this region.

A RASH YOUTH

NEW RICHMOND, Minn., July 8.—Last evening Henry Young, aged twenty-four, killed Mary Discher, aged eighteen, then himself. She had refused his offer of marriage. The girl's mother and sister were eye witnesses to the tragedy.

A $2,000,000 Suit.

NEW YORK, July 8.—In the $2,000,000 suit of Receiver Farnsworth, of the Bankers and Merchant's Telegraph company, against the Western Union Telegraph company for the destruction of the plaintiff's wires, Judge Lawrence to-day in the supreme court denied a motion of the counsel for the defense to dismiss the case.

BY ACCLAMATION.

Hon. John E. Lamb Receives an Ovation and a Unanimous Nomination.

ROCKVILLE, Ind., July 8.—One of the largest and best conventions ever held in this part of the state convened here to-day to nominate a candidate for congress from the Eighth district. Aside from the delegates proper there were present a great many democrats from this vicinity and throughout the state. Among the latter were Mr. Thomas Byrne, of Vanderburg, candidate for treasurer of state; Mr. Charles A. Munson, of Allen; Dr. A. B. Pitzer, of Tipton, and Mr. Jared Reiter, of Knox, candidates for auditor of state, and Hon. Thomas Davidson, of Montgomery, candidate for supreme judge.

Gen. M. D. Manson was elected to preside and after a call of counties Judge Cyrus T. McNutt, of Vigo, presented the name of Hon. John E. Lamb in a very graceful and eloquent address. The nomination was handsomely seconded and on motion of Judge Davidson the convention unanimously and by acclamation named Mr. Lamb as their candidate. Judge Jump notified Mr. Lamb of his nomination and the gentleman responded. His reception was an ovation of which he might well be proud. In an eloquent and well timed speech, accepting the nomination, he warmly indorsed President Cleveland's administration; declared himself in favor of a revision of the tariff; opposed to a financial legislation that will make money scarcer; in favor of protecting the laboring man against the competition of European and Chinese cheap labor; in favor of reserving public lands for actual settlers, and in favor of a more liberal policy in pensioning the nation's defenders.

REV. ROCKEY

A Married Columbia City Minister Loves Rashly.

WABASH, Ind., July 8.—A church trial at Roann, this county, has just disposed of the case of Rev. Mr. Rockey, a young Lutheran minister of Columbia City, who, despite the fact that he was married, looked with languishing eye upon a Miss Jack, a pretty maiden who attended his services. Rockey's alleged offense consists in inviting Miss Jack to take strolls with him, protracting them till twilight, and endeavoring to persuade her to walk beyond the city limits; to endeavor to induce her to enter an empty church at dark to play on the organ, and when "shaken" by the lady to call on her at 10 o'clock at night, awaken her family and make himself ridiculous. It was not known until a short time ago that he was a benedict, and since then Miss Jack's indignation has waxed violent, and Rockey was dragged down from Columbia City and regularly investigated. He was found guilty of imprudence, and after being reprimanded was allowed to return to his charge.

Parnell Fund.

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, July 8.—The following was sent from here this morning to Rev. Chas. O'Reilly at Detroit, by T. M. Reade, secretary, and James Johnson jr., treasurer of the citizens committee:

"The citizens' committee composed of merchants, manufacturers, and mechanics of Springfield, of every nationality, send Parnell five hundred dollars as a part of their contribution to the parliamentary fund."

PLANTATION WAR.

The Negroes Armed and Ready For Revenge.

ST. LOUIS, July 8.—A special from Little Rock, Ark., says: "Intelligence has arrived from the neighborhood of the late plantation trouble that the striking negroes, reinforced by many sympathizers from the surrounding farms and plantations numbering fully one thousand, have made complete preparations for a general uprising some time to-day or to-morrow; that fully armed they will attempt to redress their wrongs, directing their attention to Sheriff Worthen, who recently subdued the strikers. They will next advance upon the farms of Morris and Fox with the intention of burning their crops, barnes and houses. Others who have incurred their enmity will be visited and treated in a like manner. The negroes have been openly buying arms and ammunition within the past few days and state if they are opposed in their campaign of revenge they will be freely used. Sheriff Worthen called a public meeting last night and stated these facts, at the same time asking those who were willing to join the posse to hand him their names. About one hundred men responded to the call and were sworn in. The governor has been called upon to order out the militia, but he refused to do so until some actual trouble shall have occurred. Some of the farmers in the vicinity of the Tate plantation have prepared to arm the rest of the negroes, while others have removed their families and valuables to places of safety."

MUNCIE SCORCHED.

Two Squares of Buildings Destroyed—Loss Over $100,000.

MUNCIE, Ind., July 8.—The greatest conflagration that ever afflicted Muncie occurred yesterday evening. About 7:30 o'clock fire broke out in J. M. Thomas' livery stable, caused by spontaneous combustion, and in a few moments destroyed the building together with three head of horses and other valuables. The fire spread from building to building until two squares were a mass of flames. The popular National Hotel together with other buildings of much note fell, before the flames. The city is in a turmoil of excitement.

The Union City fire department was telegraphed for and responded within thirty-five minutes with 200 men. Mayor Ellis acted with his usual calm and wise forethought without an error on his part, and crowned the city with honors for his cool deliberation in this hour of trial. The losses will reach $100,000. Wm. Tenverbaugh, fireman, was seriously if not fatally injured during the fire.

The losses will run about as follows: J. M. Thomas, livery stable, $6,000; no insurance; E. E. Georgia, proprietor of National hotel, $20,000, no insurance; Richard Cunnington, bakery, $1,000; M. G. Mock, broker, $1,000, no insurance; C. E. Anthony, $6,000; two tenement houses, partially covered by insurance. Dr. Snell, residence and office, no insurance.

This morning at 1 o'clock Susan Thornburg's residence was burned to the ground. Loss, $1,000, covered by insurance.

ANN ARBOR, July 8.—At a meeting of the executive and law committees of the university last night, Prof. Charles A. Kent presented his resignation as a lecturer in the law department. Prof. Kent's letter states that his action is based on what he considers an unfair adjustment of salaries. The law professors were cut from $2,200 per year to $2,000. The medical faculty salaries were left at $2,200. Prof. Kent urges that this was a discrimination against the law department. He will doubtless be succeeded by W. P. Wells, of Detroit.

CONGRESSMAN COLE.

The House Adjourns Because of His Death.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Representative William H. Cole, of the Third Maryland district, died this morning at his residence here, in his forty-ninth year, from Bright's disease.

A MARK OF RESPECT.

In the house, Mr. Compton, of Maryland, submitted a series of resolutions expressing the regret with which the house has heard of the death of the Hon. Wm. H. Cole, late representative of the state of Maryland, and providing for the appointment of a committee of seven representatives and three senators to take order for superintending the funeral ceremonies.

The house then, at 11:10, as a mark of respect to the memory of the deceased, adjourned.

Chairman Matson, of the invalid pension committee is determined to insist upon the reference of all vetoed pension bills to that committee and when the house meets to-morrow he will again make a motion to refer each case. The democratic leaders are resolved to stay here all summer, if necessary, as one of them put it, before abandoning their position in the matter.

Republicans who have been most active in their efforts to secure immediate action on the vetoed bills, have proposed a compromise, which will probably be accepted. Under its terms two hours will be allowed for debate upon such of the bills as may be selected and at the expiration of that time an aye and no vote shall be taken, the result of which is to be regarded as final as to all vetoes.

Senator Sewell to-day introduced a bill directing the secretary of war to have published additional volumes of "The War of the Rebellion," sufficient to supply all posts of the Grand Army of the Republic not now receiving them and to to distribute as they are published from time to time one set to each post under the same restrictions and regulations as now govern the distribution work.

The cabinet considered delayed nominations in the senate and the action of the house on pension bills.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Congress, 12th District,

HON. ROBERT LOWRY, of Allen.

THE British know a good thing when they see it, and recent advices from India state that the war in Burmah has turned into the hands of the conquerors an amount of "loot" which is quite fabulous in its valuation. A part of this was at once disposed of at auction in Mandalay. A large quantity is being held to be sold in Calcutta in autumn, and the most valuable portion, consisting mainly of jewelry, will be taken to England and auctioned off there. Meanwhile the whole annexation scheme has given great offense in India. A writer in the Nineteenth Century reminds English statesmen that this was precisely the case after the annexation of Oude in 1856, when the terrible Indian outbreak occurred known as the Sepoy rebellion. This writer believes that the annexation of Burmah is likely to result in a similar disturbance, in which case the British will have perhaps paid dear for the bric-a-brac, jewels, and fabrics over whose acquisition they are at present gloating.

Now some idler, having, probably, no character of his own to look after, has devised what he considers a new method of deciphering the character of others. His theory is that temperament and disposition can be told by the boot. Heavy-nailed boots, as a rule, according to his theory, show a want of scientific knowledge, and absence of a knowledge of art; boots without soles bespeak poets, dreamers, inventors, and the modern Radical; top-boots are typical of stubbornness and habits of thought; broad-toed boots, philosophers and worshipers of ease and comfort; slippers, a sluggish disposition; and no boots at all, rampant vagabondism. This is all very pretty, but even the inventor's naive remark that "of course the laws here laid down, will sometimes lead to error," hardly covers the large allowance that must be made for the influence of the purse and the bootmaker in the matter. However, the theory is as good as many another which has as yet really made no great stir in the world.

THE recent visit of Judge Holman to his Indiana constituents for the purpose of "fixing his fences," writes a Washington correspondent, recalls the origin of the now famous phrase. In the spring of 1880, two months before the meeting of the Chicago Convention, John Sherman, then Secretary of the Treasury, announced at a Cabinet meeting one afternoon that he was going to Ohio. "Has your visit any political significance?" asked a friend at the Cabinet table. "None whatever," was the reply. "In the spring of the year the fences about my farm at Mansfield require a great deal of fixing. I must go out and see that the work is properly done." This sage answer raised a hearty laugh. Nobody was deceived by it because Mr. Sherman was then a recognized candidate for Presidential nomination. The incident was soon the talk of the town. Horace Porter put the saying into its present shape however, under the following circumstances: Traveling en route to the Chicago Convention in Mr. Pullman's company, near Mansfield the car in which these gentlemen, with a few friends, were jolted terribly. "What is the matter?" shouted Governor McCormack. "One of John Sherman's fence rails has got upon the track," promptly explained Horace Porter. It will be seen that this form of describing political wire-pulling is quite new.

That Terrible Drain

Which scrofula has upon the system must be arrested, and the blood must be purified, or serious consequences will ensue. For purifying and vitalizing effects, Hood's Sarsaparilla has been found superior to any other preparation. It expels every trace of impurity from the blood, and bestows new life and vigor upon every function of the body, enabling it to entirely overcome disease.

A PRETTY story, if one could believe it, is told by the Paris correspondent of a Vienna paper. A matinee musicale was given by the Duchess Lamotte, and among the guests was the charming bride-elect of President Cleveland, then in Paris completing her trousseau. The young lady was the object of many marks of distinction, the high aristocracy surrounded her, and there was much talk of her position. One lady, the daughter-in-law of the Duchesse de Persigny, condoled with Miss Folsom because she would have no title as the wife of a republican President. "All would be well, only you would have no title," said she; "you will only be called Mrs. Cleveland." "But that name is only for strangers," was the answer of the fair American; "the President has for intimacy conferred upon me a very particular title." Everybody looked up curiously, and, blushing deeply, Miss Folsom added: "He calls me his darling. Can a wife have a better title?" The hostess embraced her amiable guest, remarking: "You are right, and you appear to me as if you would keep the title to the end of your life."

This story of an infidel and his lightning-rod comes from the New Iberia (La.) Dispatch: At the Baptist Church in this town on Sunday of last week the minister was preaching a sermon on infidelity. In the congregation there was a prominent infidel named Lewis. Pointing his finger at the latter, who had smiled at a passage in the discourse, the pastor denounced him as an infidel and called on God to strike him with lightning. The next day New Iberia was the center of a terrific electric storm. The air was full of darting tongues of flame, and the crashes of thunder followed so close upon the flashes that the women and children were terror-struck and the men began to quake. While the entire population was in this nervous condition those who lived on the main street of the town witnessed a spectacle that almost congealed the blood in their veins. Walking directly up the middle of the street was the infidel, with lightning-rods protruding from every part of his body. So thickly were they scattered over him that he looked like a movable chevaux-de-frise. One rod extended sixteen feet above his head and ran half-way down his spinal column; two others of half this length were attached to each shoulder, while smaller sections stuck out in every direction. Proceeding leisurely down the street, Mr. Lewis called at the pastor's house. At the sight of this human porcupine the pastor fled in terror. All this region is greatly excited over the event.

Hay Fever Sufferers.

The number of people annually afflicted with this most annoying malady seems to be greatly on the increase. * * The editor of this journal is an annual victim, and, with a view to discover a specific cure, has tried numerous remedies. PASTEUR IN AMERICA.

Dr. Mott, of New York, an American Disciple of the Great Savant.

The pilgrimage of the five little Newark boys to Pasteur's establishment to be treated for rabies which they were supposed to have received from a mad dog bite is still fresh in the reader's mind. Their case attracted universal attention, but to no individual did it have that special interest which it received from Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York. He is a namesake and grandson of the celebrated Dr. Mott who, prior to his death in 1865, was one of the few practitioners with a national reputation. The present Dr. Mott is a graduate of Columbia college and Bellevue Medical college. He watched Professor Pasteur's researches and the result of his experiments from their inception, and being satisfied that they were fruitful of good to humanity he resolved on founding a Pasteur cure in the new world, so that patients would be saved the tedious and expensive trip to Paris. With this end in view he went to Paris last spring, and remained under Professor Pasteur's instruction for some time. He became a firm believer in the correctness of the great savant's theories, and has applied himself, with the aid of his father and his assistant, Dr. Baldwin, to their development on this side of the Atlantic.

One of the principles of the Pasteur theory is the well-known one that the human system can, by taking gradually increased doses of any poison, become so habituated or hardened to it as to be unaffected by it. This is exemplified in the tobacco and morphine habits, or in the case of what is commonly known as "poison ivy," which is highly poisonous to some people through the mere touch, while if they but chew the leaves of it it renders them proof against its poison.

To carry out this principle of the Pasteur method the patient who has received the rabid virus from a mad dog's bite, and which, if it is allowed to run its course, is liable to bring its victim to death through the terrible hydrophobia, is inoculated with virus of gradually increasing strength until he becomes so habituated to taking this kind of poison into his system that not only is the original virus received from the dog's bite rendered innocuous, but he can invite rabid dogs to bite him with impunity.

DR. MOTT DRILLING A RABBIT'S CRANIUM.

How to dilute the virus is one of Professor Pasteur's discoveries, and it is at this work Dr. Mott has been engaged for months past. He brought with him from Paris a rabbit that had some poison flowing through his body. On his arrival in this country this rabbit died from hydrophobia, as was expected. Then some of the virus from his body was introduced into the brain of a live and healthy rabbit through a small hole drilled in his cranium. Then on the death of this last rabbit the operation was repeated to another, and so on, the virus becoming, by transmission from one rabbit to another, weaker and weaker, and the length of time required for the virus to show its effects on each rabbit becoming more and more extended in the same ratio. Virus from each rabbit is carefully labeled and preserved in sterilized jars for future use as medicine.

THE FIRST INOCULATION IN AMERICA.

This scene may become a historic one. It was the occasion of the first treatment of a patient for rabies in America by the Pasteur method. The boy was first inoculated with virus after its transmission through fifteen rabbits. The operation is a simple and painless one, a mere abrasion of the skin of the left breast and a touch of the virus, as in vaccination. This operation will be repeated once each day for ten days, the patient receiving on the last day virus ten degrees stronger than that at first used, by which time the boy's system will have adducted, as it were, to the rabies habit, and the original rabies he received from the dog will be rendered harmless.

The very first operation Dr. Mott performed on himself, in the presence of a number of physicians, to prove that the treatment was harmless in the case of a healthy subject.

Influence of Woman at the Bar.

A woman has been admitted to the bar of the state, and other women who may wish hereafter to follow in her footsteps will find the way open to them. Inasmuch as we know that there is no class of citizens more susceptible to feminine influence than jurymen, the importance of this legal admission assumes a N. B. size.—Life.

Thegarin Not Sorry.

There is one thing nobody ever regrets—that is, the day they first adopted Parker's Tonic as their regular family medicine. Its range is so wide, and its good effects so sure, that nothing else, except good nursing, are needed in a great majority of cases. Buy it, try it, and afterwards it will not require any praise from us.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub wakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

TO HONOR WASHINGTON.

A Monument to Commemorate the End of the Revolution.

Congress, aided by the state of New York, is about to erect at Newburg on the Hudson, a memorial to commemorate the closing scenes in the revolutionary war. The site chosen is one of the most picturesque on the continent. It is a bluff overlooking the river, and from it can be seen West Point and the towering peaks from whose altitudes the signal fires told the story of the birth of the revolution. It is also the site of Washington's headquarters, while the whole region around it abounds in historic interest.

THE WASHINGTON MEMORIAL.

The engraving from the drawing of the architect, Mr. John H. Duncan, of New York, will give a very good idea of this unique structure. It will measure thirty-seven by thirty-two feet, with a total height of fifty-three feet to the ridge of the roof. The material used in construction will be granite gneiss.

In the center of the structure will stand a life-size bronze statue of Washington by O'Donovan upon a pedestal of polished red granite.

The top of the tower will furnish a look-out or belvedere, approach to which will be had by means of two winding staircases in the corners of the tower. Two hundred or 300 persons at a time will find accomodations here, and the view which the tower will command will be attractive to tourists from all time to come. The roof will be of iron and dark red tile, supported by thirteen massive columns, typical of the thirteen original states, and upon these columns it is intended in time that the bronze coat of arms of the states shall be placed. Upon the east and west walls of the tower niches will be provided for four figures in bronze, to be put in place later. The present idea is that statues of Washington's four favorite generals may occupy these places, or allegorical figures may be substituted. On the western wall and at the right of the archway, as seen in the sketch above, a bronze tablet will be set in, to bear such commemorative inscription as shall be agreed upon as appropriate. The interior walls it is designed to adorn with such proper medallions and bas reliefs as may be supplied from time to time. The memorial will be constructed under the supervision of the secretary of war.

Then Charley, Clair, and Harry Gay.

An Important Arrest.

The arrest of a suspicious character upon his general appearance, movements or companionship, without waiting until he has robbed a traveler, fired a house or murdered a fellow-man, is an important function of a shrewd detective. Even more important is the arrest of a disease which, if not checked, will blight and destroy a human life. The frequent cough, loss of appetite, general languor or debility, pallid skin and bodily aches and pains, announce the approach of pulmonary consumption, which is promptly arrested and permanently cured by Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." Sold by druggists.

Father Grassi has spent twenty-six years as a missionary among the Indians and is known to the tribes as "Kizequa." in the Okimagan tongue Kizequa means left-handed, and as Father Grassi is left-handed, he is known by this Indian word. Father Grassi is a native of Piedmont, Italy. He went to California in 1860 and has since that time lived and worked with the Indians. He has views on the Indian question and thus pays his respects to the Indian agents:

"If the Indians were treated with fairness and honesty, there would be little trouble with them and they would yield to christianity and become civilized. The Indian agent is usually a dishonest person, or at least inefficient and unsatisfactory. Occasionally there is a good one, but for the most part they are bad. They are Indian agents not for the benefit they may do the Indians, but for the money there is in the office. The Indians can be civilized, and civilization will settle the Indian question. Of course, christianity, preceding civilization will make the work easier. You can depend upon the Indians when they have good treatment. They are only ugly when pushed and goaded by wrong. The Indian agent's method for making good Indians is very different from ours."

Father Grassi says he has found the Indians ready to accept religious instruction. They think better of the Chinese than of the Americans, because the Mongolians treat them fairly and honestly. The Jesuits have missions in Idaho, Washington, Montana and Wyoming territories and in Alaska.

A WINNING STRIKE.

The Bricklayers Demand $3.25 a Day and Most of Them Get It.

The bricklayers have been rushed with business this season and Tuesday resolved to harvest hay in the sunshine. They all quit work yesterday and startled contractors and builders by making a demand for $3.25, instead of $3 00 a day, the sum paid them heretofore this year. This action was concerted and well planned as they caught their bosses with big time contracts on hand.

Mr. Henry Paul tells us that the demands were granted in most every instance, save by William Moellering, who refused the 25-cent raise. His men are firm and are indifferent about his refusal, as their labor is in great demand elsewhere on the various churches, business blocks and new residences now going up. At the expiration of the pending contracts the bosses will refuse the advance and Fort Wayne will be in the throes of another strike, now so nicely averted by necessity. The strike has been of the determined, quiet sort, and fully 300 men were engaged in it. THE SENTINEL will watch this contest and keep its readers posted, as a strike in view of the contemplated addition to the government building, and the erection of the Catholic Orphan asylum, the St. Paul's and St. Mary's churches, the White and Fox business blocks and a hundred other residences and stores, would be a great calamity.

LITTLE RIVER DITCH.

Joe Derheimer Will Put Two $10,000 Dredges on It at Once.

The letting of bids on the Little River ditch was the topic of conversation yesterday and capitalists stood about discussing the project. Joe Derheimer, who was awarded the contract at $137,017.74, at once filed his bond in the sum of $171,000 with Henry Paul, Charley Bash and Fred C. Boltz as his surities. The bond is entirely adequate and the signatures to it are good for considerable more than the amount named.

Dennis O'Day was backed in his proposal by Hon. Charles McCulloch and Christ Boseker. Mr. McCulloch talked of submitting the award to Judge Haynes. The bid of Joe Derheimer will, however, stand a test. Mr. Derheimer bid on every section of the ditch and its branches and also bid on the work as a whole, without any equivocation or proviso and his figures are pretty close. Experienced contractors say he will have to have good luck to make much money on the job.

Mr. Derheimer is going right ahead with his plans and has contracted to purchase on a lease scheme two huge steam dredges, costing $10,000 each. He expects his machinery here in ten days and by October his dredge on Eel river will have finished its work and then will be transferred to Little River. A number of small dredges will be leased and put at work on the branches of Little River.

The people of Fort Wayne and Allen county can congratulate themselves that the vast sum of money expended on this work is to remain in our midst. It will go right into circulation for labor and material.

PROF. OTTO SCHMIDT.

He Will Live at Richmond, Ind.

This from the Richmond Palladium will be a surprise to THE SENTINEL readers: "Prof. Otto A. Schmidt, who has recently been residing in Fort Wayne, has returned to Richmond and will remain here. He will be the director of Conner's orchestra, and as soon as the organ is placed in position at the new Presbyterian church he will preside over it. He will also resume teaching music and his old pupils are coming back to him.

Prof. Schmidt was musical director at the M. E. college and was regarded with much favor in Fort Wayne, where his ability was appreciated. It is difficult to supply his place and there will be a void in musical circles. It is not known how the college authorities will view his action.

Judge Lndlum, the Washington correspondent, pays this compliment to Judge Lowry in the Fort Wayne News: "Hon. Robert Lowry may be found at any time during the session of the house or meeting of the committee of which he is chairman or a member, at his post of duty. The judge- not referring to his politics—is still regarded as one of the most industrious and intelligent workers of the house of representatives, and his reports as chairman of his committees are always concise, comprehensive and exhaustive, and are never the subject of adverse criticism. He retains the esteem of his friends and the confidence of his colleagues."

TOOK HIS WORD.

H. H. Bossler Recovers $500 from Edward Sidel for a Proffered Sale.

The jury in the case of H. H. Bossler vs. Edward Sidel, came in this morning with a verdict giving Mr. Bossler $500, the full amount of his claim against the defendant. This suit was a novel one. Mr. Sidel objected to Mr. Bossler's appraisment of his Calhoun street block and to emphasize his protest against a $60,000 valuation of his fine block, he offered Mr. Bossler to sell it for $30,000 and agreed to pay $500 commission.

Mr. Bossler at once got Messrs. T. B. Hedekin and Barney O'Connor to plank down the cash and Sidel said he was just fooling. Mr. Bossler sued for $500 commission and he got it this morning, in the face of the fact that Mr. Sidel testified he carelessly passed the remark after looking into a few glasses of wine. Messrs. Henry Colerick and W. S. Openheim were attorneys for Mr. Bossler.

VERY PARTICULAR.

How Pittsburg Engineers Earn Their Promotions.

The Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago company is aiming at the improvement of the standard of its employes, the result which will be seen by a more intelligent set of workmen. Now, in the matter of employing firemen, the company has adopted a rule which is an innovation. According to the new regulations the company will employ locomotive firemen only on certain conditions. The applicant must pass an examination and show that he has a common school education, and can read and write. If he passes satisfactorily he is employed as an engine-wiper, at which he must work for an indefinite length of time to make himself familiar with the care of the different parts of the engine. From time to time he is examined by the master of motive power to see if he is learning anything about the machine, and may be sent out to fire for a trip or so to test his efficiency. After several of these experiences have proved satisfactory he may be given a freight run, after which his promotion will depend altogether on himself. The company has been so deluged with applications for positions that the enforcement of this rule may not to remove the pressure, and will insure a more intelligent lot of firemen from which to make engineers.

BLOW YOUR NOSE.

Disgusting Habit.

(From the Chicago Herald.)

Perhaps the most disgusting and filthy habit to which Americans are addicted, is the dirty indifference to the use of the handkerchief, and the substitution of the mouth for the offices of the nose. There is no sight so nauseating, revolting and sickening; nothing so suggestive of putrescence as this public relief of the nose and mouth. It is seen on the street, even in the church and theatre, and most offensively in a crowded car and in the presence of ladies, where there is no escape from its unsightliness, except to leave the car, or kill the perpetrator of such nastiness. Any one who can persist in the habit, after seeing another in the performance of an act so disgusting, must have either an iron-clad stomach or no stomach at all, or is too mean to buy a handkerchief, or too ignorant to know its use. The physiological place of the nose is highly important. Its relation to and sympathy with some of the most dangerous maladies which afflict mankind, are clearly understood. In catarrh, asthma, bronchitis, all diseases of the bronchi and lungs and disordered stomachs, it is sympathetically and deeply affected. By the misuse of the handkerchief, the mucous accumulations from the diseased organs drip into the lungs and stomach; hence the use of the handkerchief is not only a duty we owe to decency but to health. The nose being always sensitive to these irritations and inflammations of the throat and bronchial tubes, needs attention and nature intended it as a discharge pipe. There is no doubt that by this abuse of the functions, and by this accumulation of these museous secretions, incipient consumption is hastened and the throat and bronchia maladies greatly aggravated. The proprietors of Duffy's pure malt whiskey, an article which has a reputation all over the country as being the most effective element in the cure of consumption and kindred troubles, say that of the thousand persons with whom their Medical Department is in constant correspondence on this one subject alone, fully one-half say their troubles are directly traceable to neglect of the proper functions of the nose. We have refrained for a long time making allusion to a thing so distasteful, but it seems to be a growing vice and must be suppressed, if it takes a law to do it. Nuisances can be abated by law, and who knows how much contagion may lurk in these filthy emissions.
